Ferber charges dropped

by Janice Harrington

Charges of uttering death threats against a Cremona man have been dropped for convicted killer Richard Ferber.

Ferber, who was convicted of killing his estranged wife in 1985, will not have to face a trial into the charge, laid against him by the Didsbury RCMP earlier this year, after the it was dismissed in Didsbury Provincial Court last week.

Ferber, who had remained in custody after his arrest on the charges on May 8, was about to face a preliminary trial into the charges when the Crown asked that they be dropped.

Peter David of Cremona,

the alleged victim of the death threats, told the Crown that he did not wish to testify against Ferber on the charges. They supposedly stemmed from several telephone calls from Calgary between March 22 and April 18, 1993 in which David, the ex-husband of Ferber's girlfriend, was threatened.

After making a brief appearance in provincial court to testify on his decision not to press the charges, David, age 53, was lead away by Didsbury RCMP. He was later charged with public mischief.

David is to appear on the charge in Didsbury court on September 14.

Ferber remains in custody at the Bowden Institution in relation to other offences.

Ag fair and rodeo this weekend

by Janice Harrington

Didsbury streets will be full with cowboys and girls this weekend as the town celebrates the annual Didsbury Agricultural Fair and Rodeo.

Planned for August 20, 21 and 22, the fair will pack the three days full of exciting rodeo performances and interesting agricultural sights.

Beginning Friday night, the rodeo will kick off with the first performance of the Foothills Cowboy Association at 6:30 pm. A second FCA performance is planned for Saturday at 1 pm. Both performances will take place in the arena.

Also planned for Friday night is the ladies' night dance to the music of T.C. & Company. Held in the multi-purpose room at the arena, the dance costs $7 for men.

Saturday morning begins bright and early with a free pancake breakfast beginning at 7 am. Sponsored by local Turbo representative Duke Moreau, the breakfast will serve up free pancakes and sausages until 9 am.

The parade, organized by the Didsbury Elks will begin at 10 am following along Didsbury's main street and heading east towards the hospital. Some of the highlights of the parade include the Shriners Oriental Band and the Didsbury High School marching band.

The rodeo slack begins at 8 am and continues until 1 pm in the arena.

Starting at 11 am on Saturday, a farmers' market and bench show will highlight

In the swing

Rainy weather helped fill the Didsbury Aquatic Centre over the weekend with children and adults alike. Many enjoyed the Tarzan-type feeling of swinging out over the pool before jumping in. The rope is part of some of the fun activity orientated games and equipment provided by the facility.

School board in black

by Janice Harrington

With less than a month to go until the end of the fiscal year, the school board's budget appears to be on track.

According to County Comptroller/Treasurer Harold Johnsrude, the school board's budget for the 1992/93 school year will likely stay in black ink.

"As far as the bottom line is concerned, we are still seeing that we are going to be in the black," Johnsrude told the school trustees at their first meeting before the school year last week.

Johnsrude said a number of factors have played in the board's ability to remain on budget over the past year. Expenses in areas such as utilities have remained on budget and bussing expenses have followed predictions in fuel, repair and maintenance.

"We also managed to save quite a bit on the maternity issue," Johnsrude said. "Because we enrolled in the (substitute teachers) plan we have had some considerable savings."

Some areas of the budget did exceed anticipated expenditures. Johnsrude said distance education costs are 19 percent over budget because of the use of extra certified instructors which had not been planned for.

"We have also had some overruns in materials for that program as well," Johnsrude said.

But despite the overruns

Large parade planned

by Janice Harrington

The Didsbury Elks, long time organizers of the Ag Fair parade, are planning another big event for this year's edition.

Ken Anderson of the Elks said he is never sure how many floats will be in each year's parade but since the Elks began putting the show on, the numbers have only grown.

"I can say that it's holding its size and getting a bit bigger every year," he said.

Entrants in the parade don't pre-register, they only show up for the event at the 9:30 am judging time. Anderson said the judges spend the half hour before parade time looking over the floats and presenting ribbons to the winning entries.

"Last year the judges took a little longer than they expected," he said. "We were about a half hour late getting started, but this year we hope to be right on time."

Some of the highlights of this year's parade, which will take place Saturday morning, August 21, beginning at 10 am, will be a number of Shrine groups.

"We got the Shrine Oriental Band, the Tin Lizzies, the motor patrol and the clown patrol,"

Anderson said. "There should be about 5 or 6 units of Shriners there."

Also on hand will be the RCMP in full dress uniform, the Didsbury High School marching band, the army cadets and the usual public officials including Didsbury Mayor Ray Lea and Olds/Didsbury MLA Roy Brassard.

The parade route will take the floats down the main drag in Didsbury, turning east at the 4 way stop towards the hospital. It is expected to get underway at 10 am.

adults, $4 for children and $20 for a family.

in some areas, under budgeted expenditures in other areas have compensated and left over funds are expected by the time the budget year is up on August 31. The majority of these leftover funds are to be set up in reserve accounts according to Johnsrude.

Court shorts

by Janice Harrington

A $750 fine has been laid against a man for his part in a strange accident on Highway 2 earlier this year.

Roy Hussey plead guilty to one count of driving a motor vehicle without insurance and one count driving without due care and attention in provincial court last week. The charged stemmed from an accident in which Hussey drove into the back end of a van which had slowed down for traffic.

A Didsbury man has been prohibited from possessing a fire arm for the next 10 years.

Robert Moody was handed the prohibition and a 12 month suspended sentence in provincial court last week after he plead guilty to a charge of dangerous use of a fire arm.

A Carstairs man has been ordered to stand trial on a charge of assault after a preliminary inquiry in Didsbury Provincial Court last week.

Darren Norman Fast was charged last April with assault and uttering death threats after an altercation with his common law wife at their home.

The charge of uttering threats was discharged by the Crown.

some of the best home grown goods in the county. Set up in the curling rink, the ag fair will also include animal displays and provincial quilts.

T.C & Company will also be on hand to perform at the Saturday evening dance in the multi-purpose room which begins at 9 pm. Tickets at $7.50 each.

Sunday will be another morning to enjoy a free breakfast thanks to the West Didsbury 4H alumni and Unifeeds. The breakfast will run from 8 to 10 am just outside the multi-purpose room. Also scheduled for 8 am is a performance by the Sarcee Indian Dancers.

There are plenty of activities planned for the rest of the day as well with wagon rides, a pet show, 4H displays and demonstrations at the bench show in the curling rink starting at 10 am. Cattle cutting will take place in the arena starting at 9 am.

The Sarcee Indians Dancers will perform again starting at noon followed by children's races at the ball diamond. Sunday will finish off with the West Didsbury 4H alumni steer show and cattle penning beginning at 1 pm and 2 pm respectively.

Tickets for the rodeo, which will be announced by Wes Cummings, are $7 for erations.

"We have some pieces of equipment (planned for purchase in this budget year) that are still waiting for evaluations before we can purchase them," Johnsrude said. "That might not happen before the end of August so we want to carry that over."

The total expenditure budget for the school board in the 1992/93 school year is $25,202,200.

4H to celebrate 50 years

The West Didsbury 4H Club is planning several celebration events over the year to mark their 50th anniversary.

One of the most special events for the celebration are to take place in conjunction with the upcoming Didsbury Ag Fair and Rodeo, planned for this weekend.

On Friday, August 21, the club will begin an event filled weekend with a barbecue at Melvin Hall. All past 4H leaders and members are invited to the supper, which will take place between 4:30 and 5:30 pm. The barbecue is a bring your own meat event, but the rest of the meal will be supplied by the West Didsbury Beef and Horse club. Following the dinner, a memorabilia display will be in the hall for a stroll down memory lane. Some of the items already donated for the display have come from as far away as Kathmandu, Nepal, but more are needed and visitors are asked to bring them along. 4H members will also be presenting several skits. Anyone interested in attending the barbecue is asked to call 335-4211 or 335-4087.

The Ag Fair activities will continue early Saturday morning with a looney pancake breakfast sponsored by United Feed of Olds. And on Sunday, the club will feature a steer show beginning at 1 pm. Steer entrants are to send their entry fees ($25 per steer) to Box 1232 Didsbury. Judging the show will be Lee Friesen of Aldrie and Lauren Arthurs of West Didsbury 4H. Showmanship will be judged by Jim Scheilke of Crossfield and Sara Arthurs of West Didsbury 4H. The Ringman will be Pete Van Tighem of Carstairs and Rob Smith of Olds will be the announcer.

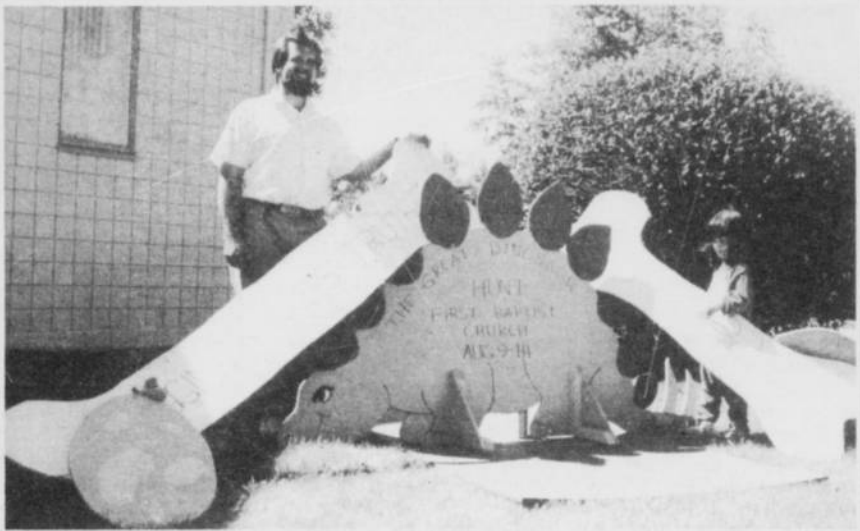

The top steer show prize, given for the champion steer, will be a bronze sculpture by Diane M. Anderson of Cremona entitled "Where is your Mom?". The category is sponsored by Burnt Lake Livestock of Red Deer. The banner will be donated by the Phyllis Bricker family.

Other awards, including a bronze commemorative plate for the reserve champion steer, have been donated by various community members and businesses. All steer exhibitors will be receiving a 50th anniversary pin and a limited edition ink drawing by Lorraine Mack Libolron of Jenner, Alberta.

Organizers of the steer show ask that all exhibitors have their steers stalled in the tent by Friday evening (Aug. 20). The steers will remain on display for the entire weekend.

For more information about the barbecue, steer show or other anniversary celebration, call 335-4211 or 335-4087.

Daniel, Brenda and big sister, Natasha are pleased to announce the arrival of Kaitlin Dawn Fisher, born in Olds on July 28, 1993 at 8:51 a.m., weighing 6 lbs. 15½ ozs. Proud grandparents are Sonja Hiller of Olds and Austin and Betty Fisher of Didsbury. Great grandparents are Niels Pederson and Jackie Hiller of Olds, Bob and Marjorie Fisher and Ino Brilz, of Didsbury.

RCMP report

In recent months there has been an increase in vehicle break-ins. Perhaps it's due to the longer days of summer or to the abundance of people walking around. Whatever the cause, the solution is easy: lock your vehicles.

Many people think that because this is a rural area, locking one's car door or house door is not necessary. Although this is not the city, we are still vulnerable to city crime.

Locking vehicles is a simple crime preventative technique. Don't make it easy for a thief.

During the month of July, Didsbury R.C.M.P. responded to a total of 326 complaints. Of these 69 criminal code files were opened including 9 impaired driving charges, 16 motor vehicle accidents were reported, 60 traffic tickets and 29 written warnings were issued.

Ark, anyone?

God must be feeling generous lately to have given the province a few days of sunshine last week to allow the water logged farmers a chance to get their hay crops in.

Other than those few warm and oh, so idyllic days though, we are getting the shaft (weather wise) this summer.

How ironic that some parts of the world are suffering traumatic droughts and famines when our part of the world (and others - mostly notably the American Midwest) most certainly have had enough water to spare.

The rain has not impacted just on the farming industry though. Tourism is suffering badly as well. In Alberta, tourism has become a major source of income for a variety of businesses. A friend, who works for American Airlines, said the planes are full every weekend with visitors flying in and out for holidays. Since most of Alberta's attractions happen to be outdoors, all of this rain has not been much of an advantage. The scenery is wonderfully green and lush but no one can get outdoors to see it.

Luckily the Alberta government has taken to helping out tourist attractions that are available rain or shine. Hundreds of thousands of dollars may be lost in Banff or Waterton, but places like the Royal Tyrell and the Alberta Reynolds Museum in Wetaskwin are doing a booming business. It's a smart plan.

Spending money that will make money despite Alberta's suddenly predictable weather (predictably rainy that is) makes sense. It gives the tourist who travelled from anywhere around the world a chance to do something besides sit in a hotel room in Banff when the skies open up again.

Give them something interesting to see regardless of the weather and they will be more inclined to come back or to promote the area to their friends than if the rain ruined all their plans.

It's a smarter use of tax payers' money.

Quote of the week

"If I hadn't needed the money to support my other bad habits, I would have done it for free."

No subdivision wanted

Dear Editor:
RE: Editorial -
Shortsightedness Aug. 3/93

Perhaps you should get a few more facts before you write about something you know nothing about.

I would like to know where all of this empty land is that the county has on their hands as a result of farmers not being able to pay their taxes?

As for gas plants being the largest money making industry in the county, I beg to differ. Perhaps they pay a fair share in property tax, but they certainly aren't the ones who support the business in town. The next time you are downtown, take note of who is getting a tire repaired, some welding done, or in general, who is shopping in the local stores--at least 75 percent of these people are farmers. Farmers built this county and farmers will keep it strong. Ninety percent of the people who live on acreages are people from the city and they do their shopping in the city. These acreage people really don't care if Didsbury survives or not. In fact they quite possibly will eventually forget where Didsbury is even located on the map after two or three property tax notices!!

Yes, we are afraid of the intrusion of acreage owners. You say they only want the "peaceful and beautiful lifestyle" we have. They move out to their acreage with 2 or 3 barking dogs that are allowed to run loose and chase our cattle. They complain about the noise when we are hauling grain past their place at 1:00 a.m. during harvest, they don't like the dust we create when we are hauling silage or grain past their beautiful acreage. Oh yes, then there is the smell we create when we spread manure across the road from them. My friend, this is all a part of that "peaceful and beautiful existence".

I ask you to take a drive out and around Didsbury, and see how many run down barns and bankrupt farms there are. The most beautiful places around the country side are farms. We produce the food you eat, and if good land keeps being taken out of production, do you really think the acreage owners are going to supply you with food for your table?

My grandfather bought this farm in 1948, my dad took it over from him, and now it is my turn - I plan to keep farming without any subdivisions or acreages. If I have to subdivide in order to pay my taxes I had better consider a different occupation - what happens a few years down the road when there is no more land to subdivide -- a farmer who won't be bankrupt because he allowed acreages on his farm? I don't think so!!

Views of a responsible gun owner

Dear Editor:
I would like to respond to last week's letter from Patrick Kenniff. His concern about gun control and the use of handguns is very understandable. I have the same concerns, but I am pro-gun. One point never gets mentioned in this long argument, guns don't kill people, people kill people.

There must be more education in relation to firearms and their use. Courses are available, but not many people use them. Before you are able to get your F.A.C. (Firearms Acquisition Certificate) you must take a course and pay out $50 for the police to do the paper work. If you have a criminal record you not only lose the money but you are denied your F.A.C.

The beginning of something new

Dear Editor:

Yesterday in British Columbia, Prime Minister Kim Campbell announced some reforms which many of us in Wild Rose have been advocating for some time.

As many of you are aware, I have repeatedly asked for changes to the pension plan for Members of Parliament, and now it seems that we will have those changes. Members of Parliament will now be precluded from collecting their pension before age 55. Also, MP's will no longer be able to collect their pension and a federal salary at the same time (commonly referred to as "double dipping").

Other important parliamentary reforms will allow more free votes in the House of Commons, with a declaration before each vote that it is a free vote. There will be more opportunity for Members of Parliament to debate with the ministers well before bills are voted on. MP's will be expected to follow a code of decorum and relevancy during question period.

In the area of appointments, qualifications and job descriptions will be established for positions and candidates will have to meet the criteria. Parliamentary committees will have the right to approve the names of those nominated to head key government agencies.

Conflict of interest guidelines will be strengthened and will be immediately imposed on ministers and parliamentary secretaries. Lobbyists will also be required to disclose much more information than in the past about who they are working for, who they are dealing with and any prior political or government employment experience.

Of course, the area which is still of great concern to all of us in Wild Rose is the Senate. Any changes to the Senate require constitutional change - right now we need to focus on our economy and our justice system - but eventually the Senate will also be subject to change.

Louise Feltham, MP Wild Rose

The position of men

Dear Editor:

Our country needs men who cannot be bought; whose word is their bond; who put good character above wealth; who are larger than their vocations; who do not hesitate to take wise chances; who do not lose their identity in a crowd; who are as honest in small things as they are in big things; who make no compromise with wrong; whose ambitions are not confined to their own selfish desires; who will not say to do it "because everybody else does it"; and who are true to their family and friends through good reports and evil reports; who are as humble in prosperity as they are in adversity; who do not believe that shrewdness and cunning are the best qualities for winning success; who know that two wrongs do not make a right; who leave vengeance - taking up to God; who are not ashamed to stand for the truth when it is unpopular; who can say "no" and stick to it even when everyone else may say "yes". Truly blessed are those families in which the father is such a man!

A gross dishonour has been hurled against men in general today by permitting pornogra-phers to call sex-maniac magazines "mens' magazines." Real men should take pornographers to court for portraying them as sex-maniacs. Real men are not assaulters of children or of women. Real men are helpers and protectors of women and children: anything less is less than human.

Family is a sacred institution ordained by God, with the father as the head. That is God's way and His way is always best. Ephesians 5:23-25 states, "...the husband is the head of the wife, even as Christ is head of the church --- Husbands, love your wives, even as Christ also loves His people and gave Himself for them". God requires that children honor (i.e., respect, obey, love) their parents. (Exodus 20:12). He has commanded that parents bring up their children to reverence God and to reject evil, promising that if they do they will not depart from it. (Proverbs 22:6). In Proverbs 22:15 parents are told to punish their children when they need it. Colossians 3:21 cautions parents to not provoke their children lest they be discouraged.

A family circle that is not Christ-centered tends towards being a vicious circle. But a family that prays together stays together. The father's position in the family is divine and he will have to answer to God for how he fulfills his responsibilities. So mothers and children should cooperate with him and pray for him and he for them.

Federal government Gun continued from page 4

Canada Mortgage and Housing Corporation will save about $100 million in subsidy costs over the next five years on a portfolio of $11 billion as it begins raising funds through capital markets on August 1, 1993, to lend directly to social housing borrowers, the Honourable Paul Dick, Minister responsible for CMHC, announced last week.

"The federal government is committed to continue efforts to reduce expenditures and make better use of resources. The use of direct lending is a significant step towards achieving this goal," said Dick.

As a federal Crown Corporation, CMHC has the ability to obtain the funds required to finance the social housing projects at a lower cost than the private lending community. The lower interest rates are possible due to CMHC's lower cost of capital and the savings associated with a large borrowing program and the Corporation's existing loan servicing network, in place across the country.

"Direct lending allows the taxpayer's dollar to go further. The savings achieved on the financing of the social housing projects, will be reinvested to maintain the existing stock and perhaps provide new social housing initiatives," said Dick.

CMHC will lend to eligible social housing sponsors as their mortgages come up for renewal, or as advances are required for new project commitments.

CMHC will raise funds for direct lending by issuing securities in the capital markets. As a result, this introduces opportunities for the investment industry and investors to participate in a new investment vehicle.

Direct lending responds to the federal government's objective of improving the cost effectiveness of social housing, as stated in April's budget.

Gun control is good and very well needed, but the more people push it to extremes it only will hurt the open and honest gun owners, like myself. Do the people who are anti-gun have all their facts? I don't think so. If a criminal or someone who is mentally ill really wants a firearm and really wants to use it, nothing what so ever, in the world, gun control or not, will for sure not stop them from doing what they want to do - harm someone. The "good guys" in this case, are the ones that will be getting the short end of the barrel. So, anti-gun people, get your facts and talk to pro-gun people, before you go shooting off at the mouth.

Sincerely,
Heidi Collins,
Didsbury

Unemployment program offered

Unemployed? Now is the perfect time to enroll in Olds College's Occupational Choices program being offered through the Extension Services Department this fall.

Last year, the Olds College helped students faced with significant employment barriers learn how to discover new, effective ways to establish themselves in today's workforce.

Anyone 18 years of age or older and unemployed can register. Living allowances and program costs for eligible candidates are funded through the Canada Employment Centre in Red Deer.

Unique to this program is the creation of a plan to fit the individual goals of each participant. Occupational Choices uses a personalized program plan to teach specifics on such topics as: Life Skills Training, Market Skills and Computer Applications. As students progress through their own study areas they then continue learning at a designated work experience site.

Assistant Dean of Extension Services, Ron Lane, said this tailor-made process can be an important self-esteem builder. "I think sincerely listening to an individual and letting them guide you along the path of what they wish to learn and achieve, you are building up that person's feeling of self-worth. That is one of the first steps to developing confidence - a very saleable employment quality."

Another benefit of the program is that each student determines the tasks they wish to dedicate the most effort to mastering. Some of these might include resume preparation, job search techniques, study and learning skills or further education.

"Participants are encouraged to set specific vocational goals so that we may coordinate on-the-job training with area employers," said Lane. "We can't promise them jobs, but we can give them an excellent chance to prove themselves in the workforce."

The Occupational Choices program is being funded by the Canada Employment Centre. Applications for the program are being accepted until August 30, 1993. If you are interested in registering, or would like some additional information contact Ron Lane in Extension Services at (403) 556-4643.

College offers high school diplomas

Olds College is once again offering General Educational Development Exams (G.E.D. Exams) on campus September 24th and 25th.

Registrar Joan Fraser says passing the test - often referred to as the High School Equivalency Exam - is an important stepping stone towards obtaining better employment, promotions or licensing. "These days you need all the advantages you can get to reach your potential in the workplace. That means having the basics, like a high school diploma to survive in an increasingly competitive market."

Fraser believes businesses and industries are paying more attention to the kind of schooling their applicants have acquired. "Employers today have a lot of respect for individuals who are able to obtain their G.E.D.'s...It's not an easy process to have to go through, especially once you've been out of high school for awhile. They respect the kind of effort it takes to overcome the intellectual and emotional challenges involved."

G.E.D. testing actually dates back as far as 1942. It was then that many World War II veterans would use the exam to quickly get a credential equivalent to a high school diploma so they could go on to college or university. Later, it became available to all adults.

Olds College serves as one of over 3,000 testing centres in North America, a duty Fraser believes contributes to the community's educational well-being. She explains, "Holding these exams at Olds College is not a money-making effort. It just provides a service to the community aimed at the student who has been out of school at least 10 consecutive months and who is 18 years of age or older."

General Educational Development examinations span a period of two days and involve five major subject areas: English, Social Studies, Mathematics, Science, Literature and the Arts. Most questions on the exam are in the "multiple choice" format. The only portion of the exam that must be hand written is a short essay under the Writing Skills Test. "The tests are designed to take in a wide spectrum of knowledge and are not necessarily linked to any specific high school course," Fraser says.

The cost of taking the G.E.D. exam varies depending on whether it is a first or second attempt. This year, for example, it will cost $50 for the first writing and $40 for all rewrites. "The nice thing about these tests are that if you passed four out of five sections, you only have to come back and write the one you missed; not the whole set," Fraser adds.

Once completed, all exams are sent to Alberta Education's G.E.D. Testing Centre in Edmonton to be graded.

As Fraser stresses, it is important that all applications for G.E.D. exams be received no later than August 27, 1993. "We may be able to accept walk-in applications on the day of the exam providing there is room available to accommodate these individuals. We are actually quite limited to the numbers we can accept because of supervision requirements."

1994 test dates are June 3rd and 4th.

If you would like more information about G.E.D. Exams, please call: Registrar Joan Fraser at (403) 556-8323.

Unemployment rate increases

On a seasonally adjusted basis, Alberta's unemployment rate increased in July to 10.1 percent. Part-time employment fell by 38,300 in July, while full-time employment increased by 31,900 resulting in a net loss of 6,400 jobs. This loss, in combination with 17,000 new job seekers, resulted in an increase in Alberta's unemployment rate. The employment losses were largely concentrated in the government-funded sector including public administration, education, and health and social services, with some additional declines in manufacturing. At the same time, employment gains were recorded across the private sector. These gains occurred in agriculture, construction, transportation and storage, wholesale and retail trade, finance and insurance, accommodation, food and beverage, and other services.

The Big Pitch

Their nationalities didn't count.
Nor did the fates sent to surmount.
In front of a frenzied Stadium crowd,
Our National soccer team did us proud.
Both sides were crushed in different ways,
Good refs won't stand for dirty plays,
Australia's goalie got the boot,
Prompting our fans to cheer and hoot.
But darned if we didn't kerfuffle indeed,
We scored on ourselves to give Aussie the lead.
But then, as so often in sports we recall,
Our Maple Leaf reps give it more than their all.
New bulge in the net giving our team the tie,
One more in six minutes, Down Under, goodbye.
Team Canada leads by one goal, a high five,
Our World Cup ambitions still very alive.

YOU WOULDN'T FEED THEM MONEY, SO WHY DO YOU LET THEM DRINK IT?

You could be pouring far too much money into winter watering by using inefficient livestock waterers or floating stock tank heaters. You're paying for the energy they waste.

Now you can get the energy to do more. With an energy efficient livestock waterer you can save up to $50 right away with a special rebate from TransAlta for every one you purchase. And you can save as much as $80 a season, per waterer, by reducing your power bill — that can add up to more than $1200 over the life of one energy efficient waterer!

And cutting costs doesn't mean giving up reliability. Thousands of Alberta ranchers and farmers trust energy efficient livestock waterers to get the job done.

UP TO $50 REBATE
UNTIL NOVEMBER 30

Getting the rebate is easy. If you're a TransAlta customer, all you have to do is purchase an energy efficient or energy free livestock waterer between July 1, 1993, and November 30, 1993.

To be eligible, energy efficient models must be CSA approved and have an installed insulation level of R6 or better. Energy free models must have insulation levels of R28 or better. Energy efficient standard waterers, those without an insulated cover, will receive a $25 rebate. Waterers with an insulated cover will receive a $50 rebate.

There are plenty of energy efficient makes and models to choose from. Your local farm equipment dealer can show you the models that qualify and provide you with the rebate application forms. Or you can call us at 267-7533 and we'll send you an application form in the mail.

SAVE NOW, SAVE LATER

Energy efficient livestock waterers are an easy, reliable way to reduce your winter watering costs by up to $80 per season for every one you use. And since the purchase price between regular waterers and energy efficient waterers is minimal, especially with a rebate, you begin saving right away.

So get Power Smart, and keep your money in the bank instead of pouring it into the trough.

Agricultural export expectations high

"The increase in Alberta's value-added agricultural shipments is particularly noteworthy," said Paszkowski. "While value-added exports by the other provinces did well, with an increase of 25.1 percent in 1992, Alberta's value-added shipments achieved an increase of 32.5 percent. Such gains are a tribute to the high-quality products that Alberta's producers and processors are offering on the global market."

In particular, Alberta's exports of non-purebred cattle increased by a significant 61.9 percent in 1992.

Alberta's exports of live animals increased 52.5 percent to $485 million in 1992, and beef exports increased 95.5 percent to $188 million. In particular, Alberta's exports of non-purebred cattle increased by a significant 61.9 percent in 1992. This moved the Canadian beef and cattle industry from exports of approximately 14 percent of production five years ago to 41 percent of production in 1992.

Current global trends have the potential to open many new markets to Alberta's agri-food exports. "Alberta's well-established food processing industry is ready to take advantage of new market and trade opportunities resulting from these trends," said Paszkowski.

Paszkowski also expects a successful conclusion to the General Agreement on Tariffs and Trade (GATT) negotiations. Alberta's agri-food products will achieve growing export success as market access is improved and trade distorting subsidies are reduced.

The global trend toward economic growth is also expected to stimulate trade as consumers look for unique and higher-quality products. Economic growth is forecast in Alberta's major markets, such as the United States, Pacific Asia and Europe. In addition, superior growth rates and improved incomes in developing countries such as Mexico are creating an expanded middle class; the North American Free Trade Agreement (NAFTA) will allow Alberta's agri-food exporters greater access to this potentially lucrative market.

With more emphasis on higher-quality foods, there will be opportunities for firms whose reputations are based on high-quality, safe and environmentally-friendly products. Alberta's producers and processors possess excellent reputations; in 1992, out-of-province shipments, including out-of-country exports, totalled nearly $4.54 billion, of which about 42 percent included value-added products by the processing industry.

Alberta is well on its way to achieving a goal set recently by federal and provincial ministers, declared Minister of Agriculture,

Food and Rural and Development Walter Paszkowski last week.

Paszkowski said the goal is in keeping with the Government of Alberta's commitment to build on the strengths of the Alberta economy as part of the new economic strategy for the province. Premier Ralph Klein has emphasized Alberta's commitment to support economic growth in the agriculture and food processing industry to encourage exports of value-added products.

At their annual meeting in Charlottetown on July 6 and 7, ministers agreed in principle to a market development strategy to increase annual agri-food exports by roughly 50 percent to at least $20 billion by the year 2000. Ministers also agreed to increase the current proportion of value-added agri-food exports.

"Alberta is ready to make the most of opportunities created by changes in the world trading environment, particularly in the trade of processed products," said Paszkowski. "To make the most of emerging opportunities, the industry and government are ready and willing to work together."

Paszkowski cited increases in agriculture and food exports in 1992 as indication that the province is prepared to meet the goal set by ministers last week. Total agriculture and food exports out of the province increased 22.4 percent from 1991 to 1992, compared to a 19.7 percent increase in exports by the other provinces.

Initial public offering made

United Grain Growers Limited (UGG) completed its initial public offering July 28th by issuing 2.0 million limited voting common shares at $8 per share to its underwriters ScotiaMcLeod Inc., Burns Fry Limited, Richardson Greenshields of Canada Limited, and Midland Walwyn Capital Inc. The limited voting common shares commenced trading on the Toronto Stock Exchange and the Winnipeg Stock Exchange July 28th.

Net proceeds from this offering will be used to modernize and rationalize UGG's grain handling infrastructure by constructing high throughput grain elevators, upgrading plant and equipment at selected elevators and constructing or upgrading crop production service facilities in Western Canada.

UGG's principal business, grain handling and marketing, is centered around the $6.0 billion Western Canadian grain industry. United Grain Growers also provides inputs for both grain and livestock production and is Canada's largest publisher of farm publications.

Herbs a remedy for market garden

by Janice Harrington

Located just north of Didsbury, a small 10 acre farm is making a unique name for itself in the culinary herb business.

Rosebud Creek Herbs and Produce, owned and operated by Peter and Jenny Reed, is just beginning to expand its offerings around the county as the pair enter complete their third growing season. Specializing in fresh, field grown herbs, their market garden concept is quickly gaining notoriety.

The Reeds, former school teachers from the Devon area in England, offer a unique produce selection for local residents. Culinary herbs such as basil, parsley, farragon, savory and sage are just some of the fresh produce they sell by appointment on their farm or at the county's three weekly farmers' markets.

The market garden concept is a perfect fit for the Reeds who moved to Canada in 1990. Formerly back yard growers, the Reeds have always grown herbs and other produce for their own use. Since they were unable to teach in Canada, the garden idea was ideal.

"I guess we have always had some background in this type of business," Peter said. "My mother's family had a farming background and Jenny's father was a green grocer. We had about 1 acre in our garden back home and an old orchard. That was really what started our interest in the herbs. We grew for our own use and since we had all these apple trees, we used the juice and put it into all sorts of interesting jams and chutneys using our home produced fruits and vegetables."

Although the Reeds are nearly always sold out by the end of each farmers' market they attend, they have no plans to expand their business towards the Red Deer or Calgary area at present although further specialization in herbs may lead to that down the road.

"There are only just the two of us," Peter said. "We just plant what we know we can sell. And we are learning as we go, especially what we can and can't grow in this climate. We don't really want to get much bigger in terms of where we sell except for the herbs."

The Reeds are looking to expand their selection in the near future. Currently selling a selection of fresh and dried herbs and vegetables, Peter said they are interested in gradually increasing their fruit offerings.

"We already have raspberry, gooseberry and red and black current bushes, so why not use them," Jenny said. "But we want to do it slowly, in stages."

The majority of produce the Reeds do sell now is not on a pick-your-own basis, but through the markets and by appointment.

"We do all the picking right now," Peter said. "So if people call ahead and let us know what they would like we can have it made up for them."

Visitors are always welcome at Rosebud Creek but they are asked to call first at 556-1392.

"We don't have the time to do many of the extra things we used to do for our patients. Now it's simply whoever is the sickest, gets first attention."

NURSE DEBBIE SVEINSON, EDMONTON

ALBERTANS DESERVE A HEALTH CARE SYSTEM THAT PUTS THE NEEDS OF PEOPLE FIRST.

As Canadians, we have the right to expect an affordable, comprehensive level of care, easy access to services and equal treatment regardless of our age, gender, income or race.

ALBERTA nurses believe there are ways of reforming the health care system without jeopardizing its quality. Random cuts are not the answer. We need a plan. Given the chance, nurses could save taxpayers' dollars by providing more community-based health services that focus on care and keeping people well.

NURSES want to help provide a superior health care system to Albertans. But government cuts that close hospital beds, reduce funding to community health services, and lay off staff are hurting a health care system that is the envy of the world.

In government roundtable talks, nurses will be representing the needs of Albertans in health care reform.

ALBERTA NURSES INVITE YOU TO CONSIDER THE DIFFERENCE NURSES CAN MAKE.

NURSES AREN'T PART OF THE PROBLEM.
WE'RE PART OF THE SOLUTION.

IN HER EIGHTEEN years of experience, Debbie Sveinson can't remember feeling so disheartened in her work as a nurse caring for children who are battling cancer.

Sveinson says cuts in nursing positions have put a greater burden on families, who try to do the things nurses can't. "Someone from the family needs to be there most of the time. We used to read these children stories and give them bedtime snacks, like they would have at home. Now we can't. The children are lonely, sometimes they cry themselves to sleep." Sveinson knows health care spending must be re-examined. But in trying to save money, she says the government cannot lose sight of the real job of health care: satisfying the needs of the patient. "Patients suffer and we're not meeting their needs."

Pool project progressing

by Elaine Wilson

Town council gave the pool committee the go-ahead to engage the services of Johnston Sport Architecture of Calgary at their last regular council meeting on August 9.

The firm is to receive between $10,000 to $15,000 to come up with a design and budget to construct an aquatic centre in Olds. The current plan calls for a five lane pool, a play pool, a spa pool, a water slide, a viewing area and a "multi-purpose space" with specific usage yet to be determined.

It is likely that a referendum will be held sometime in October to give Olds residents an opportunity for input before the project is launched.

Pool committee chairman Warren Smith welcomed the opportunity to solidify plans for the project.

"We've been [working] on this project for nearly a decade," Smith said. "But now it looks like we're going to have something happen here. There's a civic issue involved, and that's what excites me. The people in the Town of Olds want this town to be all that it can be for the citizens, and I think an aquatic facility is a part of that."

Primary concerns already submitted to pool committee members centre on location and projected cost to the individual taxpayer.

"A very important factor is the obvious benefits of having it as a joint project with Olds College," Smith said. "As the information comes out [Olds area residents] will see the importance of that."

Smith said that projected capital and operating costs would be calculated and presented for both on and off Olds College campus locations.

"The biggest selling feature of the whole project will be the comparative costs," Smith said.

The aquatic facility is expected to cost $2.5 million to build. The pool committee will be exploring fund raising options to cover both the initial expense of construction and daily operating funds prior to their final presentation to town council when all the numbers are available.

"From the former community recreation cultural grant from the provincial government we have put aside, the rec board has put aside approximately $100,000 over about a six year period," Hammer said. "That money is sitting in a reserve account and that's where the $15,000 [for the initial proposal to be drafted by Johnston Sport Architecture] will come from. We have to develop a fund raising plan. We have to approach all of our service clubs to discuss with them how much money they are willing and able to raise. We have to look at the different government grants that are out there and make application for those. We also have to work with the finance department of the town to estimate how much reserve funding will be available by the summer of 1995, when the facility would be open and the bills would have to be paid. We'll have a better idea of what's feasible by mid September."

Going over details

Olds pool committee chairman Warren Smith and town recreation coordinator Roberta Hammer talk about some of the plans for the proposed indoor swimming pool at the Olds town council meeting last week. Smith said an architectural design company has been hired to create a pool design, but a public plebiscite for ratepayers will have to take place before the town decides to go ahead with the plan to build.

New bowling centre slated to open in October

by Elaine Wilson

Spare Time Bowl will be reopening in the fall in a new location.

The new building will house $150,000 worth of equipment, largely reclaimed from the previous location. The estimated cost for the land and the 8400 square foot bowling centre will run approximately $280,000, and will be located on 54th Street across from Centennial Park.

Wade Harris and his wife Norene have managed Spare Time Bowl in Olds for the past six years. They have hired local tradesmen to lay the foundation and construct the facility but Wade, who has been involved with bowling operation and management since the age of 14, will be doing much of the interior work himself. Bowlers should notice the difference in the new location, as Harris will be resurfacing all lanes prior to their installation in the new centre.

"There's been a bowling alley in Olds for a long time," Harris said. "We decided it was time to give it a real face lift in a new atmosphere."

"When we first came to Olds we had air machines," Norene Harris noted. "We've upgraded; we put in electric machines. We also replace pins and balls on a regular basis."

Barring any unforeseen complications, bowlers should be on the lanes by early October. Leagues normally scheduled to start in September will be given the option of extending the season to make up for a late start.

The plan calls for eight lanes, a spacious, well lit parking area, wheelchair accessibility and a 70 seat lounge. The primary reason for the move was location, according to Norene Harris.

"It's a great location," Norene said. "It's close to lots of other recreational facilities - the arena, the swimming pool, the campground. When it's raining in the summer, it's something fun to do."

Those who are planning ahead for fall are asked to contact Norene Harris at 556-7172 or 556-8165 for information on league schedules and other upcoming activities slated to follow the grand opening of the new Spare Time Bowl facility in October.

Major renovations

Wade Harris, owner of Spare Time Bowl in Olds looks over his construction project for a new bowling alley. Wade and his wife Norene decided to expand their facility at a new location and hope to open later this fall.

Road repairs

Town of Olds employee Derrick Wilson bends into his work on final preparations last week on 50th street. The road is undergoing some repairs before repaving. Paving is scheduled to take place sometime this week, if the rain ever lets up.

Volunteers help out at camp

by Janice Harrington

An army of volunteers from an American church descended near Sundre last week as part of a work and witness program.

Fifty men, women and children, ranging in age from early teens to seniors, packed up their cars and conveyed from Vancouver, Washington to help with renovation work at Camp Harmattan.

Vancouver Church of the Nazarene Youth Pastor John Mosley said the project was part of the church's program to help out worthy church related activities. Camp Harmattan, owned and operated by the Canada West District of the Church of the Nazarene, offers a well-organized outdoor haven for church goers and other groups.

"We heard about this place and we thought it was pretty neat: something really directed for youth and children and worth getting involved in," Mosley said. "It is kind of strange because here we are, we've raised money for this and came all the way up here to do some building and we ourselves are without a church building."

Mosley said the group of 50, some of whom are spending work holidays on the project, took part in the fundraising which paid for the materials for the improvements and for their travel up to Sundre.

"Each person even had to kick in some of their own money," he said.

This is the first time in while Mosley's church was involved in this kind of project. Close to a decade ago some members had done work on various projects in the Hawaiian Islands and in Papua, New Guinea, but Sundre was the first major project they have undertaken since then.

Some of the improvements the group undertook included bunk building, cabin painting, adding electrical outlets to the RV camp spot on the adult side of the camp and building an outdoor youth shelter. Ted Harrison, administrator of the camp, said they are overwhelmed by the generosity the Vancouver organization has shown.

"It has just been incredible," he said. "It is such an incredible benefit to us because (as a non-profit organization) we only have so many hours and so much money in the coffers to do these kinds of things."

The Vancouver church group finished the construction in a week before returning home to the United States.

HOSPITALITY PAYS BE A TOURISM AMBASSADOR

Imported labor

About 50 volunteers from Vancouver, Washington convoyed up to Camp Harmattan last week to work on camp improvements. The group, from the Vancouver Church of the Nazarene, helped build a meeting hall, paint cabins and build bunks for the camp. The project was paid for entirely through the church's fundraising activities.

In the drink

Asmathic children enjoyed some of the sunny weather last week and an outdoor experience at the Camp Harmattan camp for asmathic kids. The children took in such activities as swimming in the camp's outdoor pool. One of the more popular pool games involved this giant, inflatable pillow.

Crime of the week

On CrimeStoppers this week we need your help in solving a break, enter and theft that occurred in Red Deer, Alberta.

Over the weekend of July 9th to 11, 1993, thieves broke into a residential garage located at 4710 - 55 St., Red Deer.

They stole camping items including a "Coleman" tent, propane stove, heater and lantern. They also stole sleeping bags, fishing tackle and ball gloves. The culprits took several "Bosch" electric drills and "Kline" pliers. Some of the tools taken had the initials "R.H." engraved on them.

If you have any information regarding this break, enter and theft or any unsolved crime, call CrimeStoppers at 340-TIPS, that's 340-8477 or call toll free at 1-800-661-TIPS. The calls to CrimeStoppers are not traced or recorded and you never have to give your name or testify in court. CrimeStoppers will pay up to $2,000 for information leading to the arrest of suspects in any unsolved crime. The CrimeStoppers Crime of the Week is also featured on Red Deer On Line at 347-7365, extension 659. CrimeStoppers serves all of Central Alberta.

Carstairs to bloom this weekend

by Janice Harrington

Carstairs will be a gardener's paradise this weekend with the annual Horticulture show planned for Friday.

Della Taylor, long time organizer of the yearly gardening show, said the public is welcome to come view some of the best in local flowers and vegetables starting at 2:30 pm this Friday, August 20.

"Exhibitors must have their stuff in by 10 am because the judging starts at 10:30," Taylor said. "We will then open the doors for everyone at 2:30."

Taylor said visitors can expect to see entries to 52 categories in the open flower session, 25 in the senior vegetable class, 19 in the junior/flowers class and 85 in the handicrafts section. Over 100 competitors are expected.

The Carstairs Horticulture show has been a yearly tradition for the town since 1945.

Taylor, herself involved since 1961, said competitors and spectators return every year because of their love of flowers and gardening.

One of the highlights of the show is the flower girl and bachelor button competition. An adorable assortment of young gardeners will sport floral creations beginning just after 2:30 pm just after the door open to the public.

Awards will be handed out by local judges beginning at 3 pm.

The Horticulture show will take place in the Carstairs curling rink.

School gets recycling grant

Midway Community School announced last week that it has received $275 from the Shell Environment Fund.

"The funds will be used to set up a recycling center at the school," said Doug Peters, the Community and Curriculum Coordinator for the school. "We are pleased to be able to draw on this fund for our worthwhile environmental project."

Now in its third year, the $1 Million annual Shell Environmental Fund has gained wide acceptance among community groups and individuals from across Canada. To date, more than 2,300 applications have been received in the fund's administrative office in Calgary.

Since June of 1990, $2,413,668 has been approved for 1,083 projects from Newfoundland to Vancouver Island. These projects include the purchase of materials for recycling, habitat cleanup and restoration, waste reduction, and other action-oriented environmental projects. Individuals, schools, service clubs, and community environmental groups have received grants ranging from $50 to $5,000 per project.

Projects are approved by panels consisting of two environmentalists, a senior government official and a Shell employee. These groups meet from four to six times a year to review applications under the general guidelines of worthwhile environmental projects. Projects that have a high volunteer or community involvement, and demonstrate an innovative approach to solving environmental problems are highly rated in the selection process.

Information about the Shell Environmental Fund can be obtained by calling the Shell Helps toll-free number at 1-800-661-1600. You can also write to the Shell Environmental Fund, P.O. Box 100, Station M, Calgary, Alberta, T2P 2H5.

CREMONA / WATER VALLEY

School opening remains the same

by Janice Harrington

The re-opening of the Cremona school is still on schedule despite a hold up in renovation

County of Mountain View School Superintendent Shirley Van Eaton said school administrators still plan to open the school up for regular classes again this fall as planned despite a 2 month delay on modernization work to the gymnasium.

The work had been delayed after construction crews found soil on the site to be contaminated by oil from a heater that had once been used by the school.

"This has been a difficult issue to work with because we have to work with both the environment department and health to get it solved," Van Eaton said. "We have got to get final approval on any plans to remedy the situation from the health department before we can do anything."

Van Eaton said the excavation work on the gymnasium will not continue until a plan has been approved and the contaminated soil has been removed from the site.

"We are reluctant to go into any details in an open session on what might happen and how much it might cost," County Commissioner Herman Epp told the school board trustees at their last meeting. "I don't think we want to talk about it yet because it is all proposed, we have nothing firm."

In the meantime, Van Eaton said Cremona school administrators are working out a plan to use alternative programs for physical education in the school when it re-opens this fall. A plan had been in place because the gym was not expected to be finished until December, but that plan will now be expanded because of the delays.

Under the "I"

Which stands for indoors this weekend at Water Valley Days. Visitors to the event like Pauline Newstead and her 6-year-old daughter Meaghan enjoyed some of the indoor activities available because of the rain. Despite the deluge, organizers were still more than pleased with the turnout.

Water sports

Despite the rain and cloudy weather, the slo-pitch tournament at Water Valley days had a good turnout of both players and spectators. Sunday, most spectators turned out with umbrellas or watched from sheltered areas.

The Difference A Few Hundred Calories Can Make

"How many calories do I need to eat to lose weight?"

A simple question which is often asked and there is no simple answer. Sincere energy needs change with age, gender, and activity level, a specific calorie level can only be recommended after assessing current food intakes and activity levels. However, dietitians and nutritionists use a guideline of eating 500 fewer calories daily in order to lose a pound of fat per week.

Remember a loss of one to two pounds per week is a healthy amount to lose.

How easy is it to cut down by 500 calories each day? For people who consistently eat more than 2,000 calories, cutting the diet by 500 calories is a possible and easy diet change. Take a look at the following list of foods:

Desserts

1 medium slice of pie with 2 crusts, 425 calories; 1 large date square, 250 calories; 2 chocolate chip cookies, 105 calories; 1 piece of carrot cake with cream cheese frosting, 240 calories.

Snacks

½ cup nuts, 400 - 485 calories; 1 small bag of potato chips, 290 calories; 355 ml soft drink, 135 calories; a regular chocolate bar, 250 - 350 calories; 1 Tablespoon peanut butter, 95 calories; 1 oz. cheese with 32%

MF, 120 calories.

Fast Foods

1 Big Mac (or other double patty hamburger), 560 calories; Large french fries, 320 - 400 calories; Fried chicken sandwich, 490 calories.

Fats

1 Tablespoon butter or margarine, 100 calories; 1 Tablespoon vegetable oil, 120 calories.

Alcohol

1 can of beer, 145 calories; 1 rye and coke, 190 calories; 1 glass wine, 75 calories.

For many people cutting back 500 calories is possible and has other health benefits by helping lower fat in the diet and encouraging smaller amounts of alcohol.

For healthy weight loss and long term weight loss, regular activity is as important as eating less food. And the good news is, when you exercise you can lose weight with a more modest cut in calories.

For a healthy weight control program, use Canada's Food Guide to Healthy Eating as a guideline for your food choices. Limit the high calorie extras by about 300 to 500 calories a day and enjoy regular activity.

Mount View Lodge news

by Annie Caush

Hi all - Here we are once again. We hope you are all enjoying our occasional summer days. One of those days was the parade day for the Olds Fair. Our Lodge entertained guests from the Carstairs and Sundre Lodges. They viewed the parade with us and then joined us for dinner. It was very nice having you - thanks for coming!

The August birthday party was hosted by Auxiliary members Mrs. Bewick, Mrs. Sarde and Mrs. Reid. The entertainment was provided by Mr. and Mrs. Gorrill and Mrs. Boch. Thank you very much for your beautiful music and songs.

Those celebrating August birthdays were Mrs. Funkhouser and Mrs. Palamar. We also honored one of our residents who will celebrate her 100th birthday next month. Mrs. Blanche Tremblay was born in Sept. 1893 and plans to return to Ottawa to celebrate this extra special day. It was a privilege for us to help her celebrate a bit early. Greetings were brought to her from Mr. James, Chairman of Mount View Foundation Board and Mr. Brassard. Our M.L.A. Also present was Father Perron of St. Stephen's Catholic Church who spoke of the inspiration that Blanche is to his congregation. Our "resident poet" Gladys Smith read a poem she had written for Blanche and Blanche responded by graciously thanking us all. The Auxiliary members then served a lovely lunch of birthday cake and ice cream.

In hospital we have Mrs. Vi Hotel and Mr. Dawson. We hope you feel better soon.

Thanks to Kerry Engel, DHE at Westlock for this article.

So how well does your family communicate?

Do you run into problems during the busy season because people haven't taken the time to clean up their communication channels?

My parents have a communication problem on their farm and their names are Kerry. That's right, they have a daughter named Kerry and a helper named Kerry. Try figuring out which Kerry is supposed to be at "Chaba's" and which one is supposed to bring the three-ton to the farm when "Kerry" is asked to do both over the CB. They have started putting a disclaimer on our names. I'm still Kerry and the other guy is "Kerry up the Hill" (because that's where he lives, up the hill).

Proper family communication is essential. In working with farm families over the last six years

PUBLIC NOTICE

The Red Deer Regional Planning Commission, being the Subdivision Approving Authority, hereby gives Notice pursuant to Section 93, Subsection (4) of the Planning Act, Chapter P-9, Revised Statutes of Alberta 1980, that the following subdivision application(s) was/were approved and that the owner of adjacent land has a right to appeal as outlined below:

FILE No.	Municipality	Registered Owner	Legal Description	Decision of Approval
14/260	Town Of Didsbury	Town Of Didsbury	Portion of Block A, Plan 14 NE 18-31-1-5	Proposal to create 4 residential parcels. Conditionally approved by director

An appeal from a decision of approval of the Subdivision Approving Authority MAY BE COMMENCED BY THE OWNER OF ADJACENT LAND BY FILING WRITTEN NOTICE OF THE APPEAL WITH THE ALBERTA PLANNING BOARD, 18th Floor, City Centre, 10155 - 102nd Street, Edmonton, Alberta, T5J 4L4, WITH A COPY BEING FORWARDED TO THE APPLICANT FOR SUBDIVISION APPROVAL, WITHIN 14 DAYS FROM THE DATE OF THIS NOTICE IN THE NEWSPAPER.

For information on a specific subdivision application decision of approval and procedure to be followed in filing an appeal with the Alberta Planning Board, the owner of adjacent land should contact the offices of the Red Deer Regional Planning Commission, 2830 Brenner Avenue, Red Deer, Alberta, T4R 1M9 or telephone 343-3394.

ALBERTA AGRICULTURE

I've noticed several techniques that farm families use to improve their communication.

"To Do" Lists. If you see something that needs doing, write it down. Some families keep lists and others have a "job box", both are prioritized daily. In one family, everyone has their own job book.

Weekly Meetings. Large projects are allocated at the weekly meeting, calendars are reviewed, praise is given and complaints received. Delegate chores. Have a quick meeting every morning to find out what's going on that day.

Wall Calendars. A great, big month-at-a-glance calendar placed in a predominate place, preferably near the phone. Mark down all appointments, meetings, kids swimming lessons and the occasional day off.

Farm Map. Keep a farm map handy with land locations and "names". Hired hands and new family members don't always know where "80 acres" or the "Smith's" is. Sometimes those of us who only come back occasionally forget too.

Separate Farm Office. If you have the space, set up a farm office, complete with desk and filing equipment. Keep organized.

Filing System. Set up a farm filing system for your financial records and production materials. Need help? Call your DHE. Keep In Contact. Keep a check on where family members are. Radios or CBs really help here. It could save a life as well as improving communication.

Time Away. Take a weekend, a Sunday or just an evening. Taking a break from the farm will improve your productivity. My best ideas about work come to me when I'm doing something totally unrelated.

Don't Yell. This was a serious comment for one of our farmers.

NOTICE OF HEARING

RICINUS FIELD, APPLICATION NO. 931052
MOBIL OIL CANADA

TAKE NOTICE that the Energy Resources Conservation Board will hold a public hearing at the Bearberry Community Hall, Bearberry, Alberta, commencing on Tuesday, 14 September 1993, at the hour of 9:30 a.m., for the purpose of hearing representations respecting Application No. 931052 by Mobil Oil Canada for a licence to drill a well from a surface location located in Legal Subdivision 10 of Section 35, Township 32, Range 7, West of the 5th Meridian, for the purpose of obtaining production from the Leduc Formation.

Copies of the application and information and particulars filed in support thereof may be obtained by interested persons from the applicant, Mobil Oil Canada, (Attention: D. P. Searl), Box 800, Calgary, Alberta, T2P 2J7.

Any person intending to make a submission with respect to this application shall file, on or before 3 September 1993, seven copies of the submission with the undersigned at the address set out below and one copy with the applicant at its above address, in accordance with the Board's Rules of Practice, copies of which may be obtained from any Board office.

AND FURTHER TAKEN NOTICE that submissions relating exclusively to compensation for land usage are beyond the jurisdiction of the Energy Resources Conservation Board.

DATED at Calgary, Alberta on 9 August 1993.

Energy Resources Conservation Board

He said it was the number one rule on his farm.

Know Your Strengths. When the request for lunch comes over the CB at my parent's farm, I know which Kerry is expected to respond. I'm a much better cook than "Kerry up the Hill!"

WHAT ARE TYPO BUGS?

They are microscopic bugs that get on the type. They move around the letters, they even go so far as to eat some of them.

Occasionally they eat half of a letter but they have been known to eat one or two whole ones.

These bugs live in the typesetting machine where they do their dirty work.

We are doing our best to keep these bugs under control but occasionally they slip by us. Please accept our apologies for any inconvenience they may have caused.

Hockey offered at swimming pool

Ever played underwater hockey? Were you aware that there was such a game? Well, there is and we have it here at the Didsbury Aquatic Centre. There's ten sticks, five white and five grey, that are about twelve inches long and there's one weighted yellow sponge-coated puck. For now, we're setting up our own goal lines, but we hope to get some real underwater hockey goals soon.

The concept of the game is pretty much the same as ice hockey, with a couple of exceptions. The first exception is that there are no blue lines, red lines or circles. The second exception is that you are, of course, under water to play the game. You may surface to breathe when you feel it's necessary, but the rest of the time you're under water. Sound like fun? We sure think it does. Next time you're at the Aquatic Centre ask us about the game. If there's space, we'll get a game going. The game is also available to use during private rentals. Give underwater hockey a "shot." Bet you'll like it.

Water workouts are a cool, refreshing way to get in shape and build muscle. There are many ways to get in shape in the water, including aquacize, 50 + Fun and Fitness, swimming laps, or water jogging. All work well with the power/resistance of your own body, and by adding some equipment to these exercise programs you can increase your muscular strength and endurance, as well. Economical equipment such as bleach bottles, golf tubes, flutter boards, and surgical tubing is commonly used. Specialty equipment such as hand webs, ankle buoyancy cuffs, sloggers (webs for the feet), aquaflex paddles, hand bar exercisers, and more are also available on today's water sports market (and tend to be a bit more pricey than bleach bottles!). Whatever the water exercise it is that you do, and whatever equipment you use to do it with, rest assured that water workouts can improve your cardiovascular system as well as your muscular strength and endurance. A total overall aerobic and toning effect can be achieved.

Olds' Kareen Qually shook up the competition at the Canadian Junior Ladies Gold Championship in Canmore last week. Qually took a six stroke disadvantage going into the 16th to come within 2 strokes of taking the title from last year's winner, Brionie Brown of Winnipeg. Brown held on to take the championship title again this year.

Daughter lucky
charm for Burwash

Mr. Mom is on a roll. "I've got my good luck charm with me," says Robin Burwash of his eight-year-old daughter Casey. "She jumped in the car with me when I left the Calgary Stampede and she's been with me ever since." And ever since, the four-time Canadian champion bareback rider has been stuffing his pockets -- $16,500 in three weeks. "I think there's only two Rodeos I haven't placed at while she's been with me," says Burwash. "She's in with me for the summer. And, hey, I'm not too sure she's going to school this fall."

The 34-year-old Okotoks, AB, cowboy has his daughter on the trail because wife Cindy is holding down a day job as a hairdresser on the set of North of Sixty, a television series being shot in the Cochrane area west of Calgary. Burwash kept his streak alive this past weekend by winning first at the Lethbridge Whoop-Up Days Rodeo. That was worth $1,051. He also won first at Dodge City, KS, for $2,727; split first at Great Falls, MT, for $809; and split first in the short round at Casper, WY, for $750. That works out to $5,336 over a seven-day haul.

The week before, he chalked up $4,659 from Rodeos at Austin and Swan River, MB, Medicine Hat, Strathmore and Bruce, AB. "I've never had a run like this where I haven't been getting on the best horses but I'm still winning," says the 15-year veteran. "Usually those kind don't last that long. And it might come to an abrupt halt this coming weekend because I don't know any of the horses I've drawn."

His travels will take him and Casey to Cardston, AB, Cranbrook and Armstrong, BC, and Omak, WA.

Meanwhile, steer wrestler David Gibson, who fulfilled the qualifying standards for the All-Around standings a week ago, now has company. Five-time Canadian champion bareback rider Steve Dunham met the criteria by cashing a 10.9-second run for fifth ($282) in the calf roping at the North Peace Stampede in Grimshaw, AB. This marks the 10th time in Dunham's 18-year career that he's placed at least three times in both a timed and riding event during a season. Dunham also tied for second in the bareback riding ($632) at the neighboring Peace country Rodeo in High Prairie.

The top weekend's top money winner out of the three Canadian Rodeos was a 19-year-old, up-and-coming prospect out of Brooks, AB, Robert Bowers.

He won $1,471 in the bareback riding and $1,046 in the bull riding at Lethbridge and Grimshaw for $2,517 in all. Just a week earlier, the Southern Idaho collegian, who was born in Fort St. John, BC, filled his Permit (apprenticeship) card and gained status as a semi-pro. With these earnings, he's now filled his semi-pro card and now qualifies as a full-fledged professional. His reward: He gets to jump on stock contractor Wayne Vold's high-leaping bull Edward Scissorhands at Cranbrook this coming weekend.

Other top money winners by event were Ian Freeman of Lloydminster, SK, who placed at all three Rodeos in the bronc riding ($2,003); Cam Morris, who placed at all three in the bareback riding ($1,662); Cam Sutherland, who placed at two in the bull riding ($1,548); Tim Williamson, who placed at two in the roping ($2,74); Todd Boggust, who placed at two in the steer wrestling ($2,023) and Montana barrel racer Charlotte Schmidt, who won Grimshaw, split first at High Prairie and caught third at Lethbridge for $2,032.

And three-time Canadian calf roping champion, Joe Lucas pulled off the double at High Prairie, winning both the bulldogging and roping at High Prairie for $2,230. But, he's still not out of the woods in his drive to make the 10-man calf roping cut for the year-end Canadian Finals Rodeo at Edmonton, which he's done the past 12 years running. Although he gathered some ground by moving from 13th to 12th, Lucas is still $550 out of 10th hole with 12 Rodeos remaining on the schedule.

Canadian Plays

Hello to future SUPERSTARS, the Canada Summer Games.

4,000 athletes go for broke, old stats go down in flames.

Until it's August 21st, Kamloops spotlights our best, Canada's premier amateur guns out challenging each test.

18 activities, two weeks of 1993,
They'll terrorize the saying, be the best that you can be.

These Games are built for dreaming, from such acorns have sprung trees,

Which, in the past, have brought all sorts of champions to their knees.

Kamloops, B.C. is where they'll be, sports drama to unfold,

Another Summer Games alert, Canadian, pure gold.

Recreation views

by Ken Luck

The Didsbury & District Agricultural Societies 10th Annual Agricultural Fair and Rodeo is set for this weekend on August 20, 21 and 22 at the Didsbury Memorial Complex. Activities kick-off on Friday night with first rodeo performance followed by the Ladies Nite Dance at the Multi-Purpose Room featuring T.C. and Company.

Saturday starts with a free pancake breakfast from 7 to 9 a.m. sponsored by Turbo Resources. Beer gardens run from 1 to 6 p.m. while the second rodeo performance commences at 1 p.m. Again on Saturday night T.C. and Company will entertain in the MPR. While all the rodeo events are going on you may also want to drop past the curling rink to view the booths at the Bench Show and Farmers Market. A parade will be held Saturday morning at 10 a.m. Sunday starts with the Unifed pancake breakfast put on by West Didsbury Alumni. The Sarcee Indian dancers will entertain while cattle cutting and penning will be held in the arena. Sounds like just a tremendous weekend. Let's hope the weatherman cooperates.

On Saturday and Sunday, October 2 and 3, the Alberta Sport Council and the Didsbury and District Recreation and Culture Board will host an NCCP theory level I coaching clinic at the Memorial Complex. The theory component of the NCCP program is sport generic which means it applies to coaches in all sports. Topics such as setting up a practice, sport nutrition, skill analysis and teaching skills are addressed in the theory level I program. Following completion of the theory clinic, coaches are then encouraged to partake in a sport specific technical clinic. The practical component which involves actual coaching completes a level certification. For more information or to register for the clinic call the Recreation Office at 335-8377.

With the Summer Fun program winding down to its final two weeks, I would like to take this opportunity to thank the program supervisor Laurie Snyder and leaders Tara Hollinger and Corrina Kuelker for a job well done. Participants were kept busy with a variety of activities both indoors and out throughout the past two months.

If anyone has comments on the Summer Fun program, we would like to hear about them. Please contact our office at 335-8377 with your suggestions.

The September issue of Community Connections will be circulated on September 17. Included will be the 1993/94 Leisure Ice Schedule along with the full schedule for the Didsbury Aquatic Centre. Community Connections is a joint effort brought to you, the residents of Didsbury, by Didsbury F.C.S.S., Economic Development and Recreation and Culture. If your volunteer organization or service agency would like to submit information to be included in next month's issue, please do so by forwarding it to Tracy Kasprick at the Didsbury F.C.S.S. office located in the Town Office. Deadline date for receipt of submitting is August 27.

Walking - Alberta's favorite pastime - Tips for getting started: Only do what feels natural. Begin with a flat course and start slowly. Rest when you are tired. Plan to walk when it is convenient for you. Plan a route which is interesting, safe and easy to follow. This is the key to maintaining your walking schedule. To help you get started, try walking part-way or all of the way home from work or school.

Use the stairs as a substitute to the escalator or elevator. Walk a block at break time or at lunch. Walk your dog, or a friend's dog if you don't have one. After you walk, don't forget to energize yourself with an orange or a glass of orange juice. This will replace the potassium lost during exercise and may help prevent cramping. A good stretch before and after walking helps keep one limber and reduces stiffness.

Next week: What to wear?

Golfing farmers

Don Letourneau appreciated his drive at the First Annual Farmers Golf Tournament held in Olds last week. Organizers were pleased with the turnout for the event - 112 golfers played, and they were really pleased with the idyllic weather - not too warm and not too rainy. Organizers hope to make the tournament an annual event.

From the desk of Summer Fun

During the week of August 16 - 20 Summer Fun will enjoy a trip to the Cochrane Ranch where we will learn how to brand and rope like cowboys and experience new outdoor games and fun! Bring your bike on Friday afternoon to a bicycle obstacle course and decorating party so you can take your bike to the parade on Saturday. Everyone is welcome to attend the bicycle course at the Missionary Church parking lot on Friday. (Registration for this event is not necessary!)

A reminder that we will be attending the Gatti Circus on Monday, August 16 and on Wednesday, August 18 to Cochrane Ranch.

During the final week of Summer Fun we will be going to the Wild Rapid Waterslides in Sylvan Lake on Monday, August 23. Teens and 6 - 12-year-olds are invited to join us. Then on August 24, 3 - 12-year-olds are invited to join us for a penny carnival at the campground (weather permitting) for games, relays, prizes and fun! The final day of Summer Fun, August 25, we will be spending at the campground as well, having a wiener roast, playing all the favorite games, including sliding on a slip n' slide. The registration fee for both August 24 and 25 is only $5. For more information on events or registration, please contact the Recreation Office located in the Memorial Complex at 335-8377.

Fiction competition -- call for submissions

Established and emerging Alberta fiction writers are invited to submit full-length novel manuscripts for adult readers to the Fourth Annual Alberta New Fiction Competition, sponsored by the Alberta Foundation for the Arts, Alberta Community Development, Red Deer College Press, ITV - a division of WESTCOM TV Group Ltd. and the Writers Guild of Alberta.

The best publishable manuscript wins a $5,000 prize consisting of a $2,500 cash award from the Alberta Foundation for the Arts, a publishing contract and a $1,000 advance against royalties from Red Deer College Press, and a $1,500 12-month option agreement for motion picture/television rights from ITV. The Alberta New Fiction Competition recognizes and encourages the work of talented Alberta fiction writers. Prior to 1987 it was known as the Search-for-a-New-Alberta-Novelist Competition. Winners included "Child of the Morning" by Pauline Gedge, "Neighbors" by L.R. (Bunny) Wright and "Counterpoint" by Marie Moser. "Cafe des Westerns" by Norm Ravin, the winner of the Second Alberta New Fiction Competition, was published in 1991. "Afterdamp", by Calgary's Roberta Rees, the winner of the Third Alberta New Fiction Competition, is scheduled for publication by Red Deer College Press in the spring of 1994.

Submissions must be a minimum of 60,000 words and postmarked by December 1, 1993. Send to: Arts & Cultural Industries Branch, Alberta Community Development, 3rd Floor, Beaver House, 10158 - 103 Street, Edmonton, Alberta, T5J 0X6. For guidelines and further information contact Scot Morison or Marie Gynane-Willis at 427-6315 (toll free on the Government of Alberta RITE Line.)

Alberta playwrighting competition: call for submissions

Established and emerging Alberta playwrights are invited to submit scripts to the 27th Annual Alberta Playwrighting Competition, sponsored by the Alberta Foundation for the Arts, Alberta Community Development and the Alberta Playwrights' Network (APN).

There are three categories in this year's competition, each with a cash prize from the Alberta Foundation for the Arts: Full-Length Open with a $2,000 prize; "Discovery" Full-Length (for playwrights who have not been professionally produced) with a $1,500 prize; and One-Act Open (one-hour maximum) with a $1,000 prize.

Winning writers will also receive workshoping and marketing assistance through the Alberta Playwright's Network. Writers may enter more than one category, but are restricted to one entry per category.

The Alberta Playwrighting Competition recognizes and encourages the work of talented Alberta dramatists. Brad Fraser, writer of the international hit Unidentified Human Remains and the True Nature of Love, is a past winner of the competition. Other winners include Robert Clinton, Janet Hinton and Sharon Pollock, a two-time Governor General's Award winner for drama.

Submissions, accompanied by a $20 per entry processing fee (cheque or money order made payable to the Alberta Playwrights' Network) must be received by APN by October 15, 1993. Mail to: Alberta Playwrights' Network, #320, 125 - 9th Avenue SE, Calgary, Alberta, T2G 0P6. For guidelines and further information contact: Belle Auld/Golddia Furling, 1-800-268-8564 or Marie Gynane-Willis/Scott Morison, 427-6315.

Helpful tips for travellers

by M.H. Parnu

With the vacation season in full swing, many Canadians are busy planning trips to various parts of Canada and other countries. This means you can soon put aside the hassles of every day life to enjoy a change of pace and scenery.

About a week or so before your vacation begins, take the time to make those pre-trip preparations that will ensure a smooth, care-free holiday with no unpleasant surprises. Purchasing travel insurance is one way you can prepare.

"Buying travel medical insurance will ensure that, should the worst happen and you have an accident or become ill, you'll be covered for the treatment required with no problems," says Diane Chamberlain, a travel insurance expert with The Co-operators.

"Many Canadians know they need to purchase some kind of coverage if they are travelling to the U.S. or abroad. But most Canadians are unaware that the cost of health benefits varies widely between provinces - they will pay benefits for out of province medical services at a level no greater than if the costs were incurred in the home province. Therefore, you should purchase additional medical insurance prior to leaving to make sure you are covered for the difference in case of accident or illness."

The standard health insurance plan covers:

- hospital/medical/physician expenses
- emergency dental expenses
- prescription drugs and X-rays
- air ambulance (with prior approval)

• living allowance (with a maximum for commercial accommodation and meals if you are delayed by injury or illness beyond your scheduled return.

Additional travel insurance coverages that can be purchased include:

- coverage for baggage (in case it's lost, stolen or damaged)
- trip cancellation (in case you have to cancel or return at a different time due to an illness or death)
- visitors to Canada (medical coverage for visitors who are not Canadian citizens).

Other Travel Tips

Be sure to leave a complete itinerary of your trip with your family and/or someone at work so you can be reached in case of an emergency. This should include the names, addresses and phone numbers of where you'll be each day.

Research your vacation destination in advance. Learn the average temperature and weather conditions for the dates of your trip so you can pack efficiently and dress comfortably during your stay.

Don't overpack; pick a basic color scheme and build your vacation wardrobe around it. Always pack comfortable shoes; a sweater; lots of sunscreen; a hat to protect against sunstroke; a raincoat with zip-in lining and an umbrella - just in case.

If travelling by aircraft, check the baggage allowances for the airline you're taking. Make sure your bags conform or you may end up paying additional charges for excess baggage.

These items are also handy to have on hand: travel clock; flashlight; money belt; a first aid kit; and plastic bags to carry items to be laundered and/or wet items (swimsuits, etc.).

Purchase an extra pair of glasses or contact lenses and make sure prescriptions are filled for any necessary medicines. Take the prescriptions with you in case they need to be refilled while you're away.

Also pack a photocopy of all your identification (in case your wallet or purse gets lost or stolen). If you are using traveller cheques, be sure to record your serial numbers in case they get lost or stolen.

It's usually safer not to take any precious jewellery along; you may be a target for thieves. Take along costume jewellery instead.

Lights- camera- action!

by Elaine Wilson

If your high school classmates voted you "most likely to fail at whatever you try", chances are you'd believe them and apathetically play whatever hand life dealt you. Fred May rejected the tag, aimed for success and never looked back.

"I was dyslexic," May explained. "Basically when I was 15 years old I was out on my own without a dime between me and starvation."

Despite his age, lack of experience, and grim prospects, May found a job selling vacuum cleaners. With determination beyond his years he rolled up his sleeves and literally cleaned up.

"I supported myself that way," May said. "Actually, I made a lot of money selling vacuum cleaners which allowed me to go back to school and get an education."

After graduation, May took an electronics course at SAIT. He worked on several construction projects in design and inspection, enjoying the work but finding it somewhat tame. Radio and television had always fascinated him and he decided to try his hand in the field. He was immediately hooked.

"I'd always wanted to do it ever since I was a kid," May said. "I started playing with little home handi-cams when they first came out. For as far back as I can remember I was always playing with cameras and tape recorders. I'd take them apart and put them back together. In the days when I started doing radio, in the late sixties, there wasn't any place to go for training. I just learned by doing and went on to work in TV."

Curiosity and experimentation have served him well. In addition to several productions which have aired on eighteen radio and television stations across western Canada, wres-ting coverage produced by May for TSN aired nationally, and eventually internationally. In one three year period May produced over 600 television shows.

"That's more than some stations produce," May said.

May has produced numerous commercial, private and industrial programs but two highlights Albertans will recognize include Calgary Stampede Go-Round and Stampede Wrestling.

Personalities like Stu Hart and Ed Whalen have singled him out for praise.

"Fred has enormous skills in the areas of engineering and producing," Whalen noted in a letter of commendation written in 1991. Whalen went on to describe May's construction of a mobile television unit "a miracle in my books."

The first mobile studio May put together from scratch was a truck and trailer unit worth over a million dollars. His current unit, also hand-built, is housed inside a bus, and has "all the toys", according to May.

Shooting the chuckwagon races at the Calgary Stampede calls for a small army of technical personnel, but a few years back May managed to shave the crew to eight. May said one Calgary station who did a one day show at the Stampede used 90 people.

"They brought in trucks and everything that moved to do their show," May said. "I was in there for ten days and I used a crew of eight to produce the same show. Four camera men, a switcher, a director, a VTR operator and a producer."

Stampede Wrestling, produced under equally austere circumstances, went on to garner gratifying results.

"The first shows I did were done out of a basement suite, out of my basement in Crossfield, actually," May recalled fondly. "I had a little quonset on the west side of town. That little quonset was a television studio."

May did four separate wrestling programs including Pro Wrestling Plus which aired across Canada on TSN and the United States on ESPN. Stampede Wrestling went international, appearing on television screens in over two dozen countries around the world during its run.

An accredited CRTC producer, May recently contributed his expertise locally, producing a program for Ross Ford Elementary School called Pro Social Skills used to teach students 'people skills'. He also shot a promotional video for the town of Didsbury which was recently updated to include the new aquatic facility.

May and his wife have three children under the age of seven and their decision to move to Didsbury was based largely on instilling "small town values" in their youngsters.

"The kids don't really know what their dad does," May said. "Ben is really the only one who's involved 'in the business'. He spent his early childhood underneath an editing console."

Dad himself is never sure what he'll be doing next. Projects range from productions of in-flight programs for airlines to giant screen videos for rock shows. The only guarantee in Fred May's line of work is that life is never dull.

"I'm self-propelled," he said. "And I don't like somebody else telling me what to do, so it's great. I've been at this a long time and I still enjoy it."

Having carved a remarkable career from a dream crafted and fueled by his own vision and tenacity, Fred May has certainly come a long, long way from selling vacuums.

and arrange for someone to mow the lawn and pick up the mail, flyers, etc.

- Purchase electrical timers to automatically turn lamps on and off at pre-set times while you're away. This gives the impression that you are still at home. Radios and televisions can also be put on timers.

- If you have an answering machine for your phone, make sure it doesn't mention that you are out-of-town.

Accidents And Illnesses Do Happen

Remember that illnesses or accidents will happen so be prepared by researching your destination; packing the essentials; ensuring someone is keeping an eye on your home; and protecting yourself with travel insurance coverages. The peace of mind you'll have, knowing you're protected should the worst happen, will make your vacation that much more enjoyable. Happy travelling!

Glossary of Roman terms

Below is a list of ancient Roman terms. You'll have a lot of fun trying to pronounce and remember these words.

- Century: 60 to 80 men. A unit of the Roman Army.
- Biga: A small chariot pulled by two horses.
- Gladius: A short sword.
- Palla: A woman's cloak.
- Thermae: The Roman name for bath.
- Triclinium: A dining room.
- Insula: One block or square in the chessboard layout of a Roman town.
- Clepsydra: A water clock.
- Catacomb: An underground tunnel (chamber) containing tombs.
- Barbarian: All foreigners. Anyone who wasn't part of the Roman Empire.

Wisdom of the Ancients

- Euclid (fourth century B.C.) was a mathematician. He wrote "Elements of Geometry." His theories have been used as a classroom textbook for more than 2,000 years!
- Aristarchus (third century B.C.) was an astronomer. He hypothesized that the earth moves around the sun. He also thought day and night were the result of the earth's rotation.
- Heron (first century A.D.) was an inventor and mathematician. He is believed to have written the first book on robots, and in another, described a steam engine!

DID YOU KNOW?

IT IS BELIEVED THAT THE GAME OF HOPSCOTCH GOES ALL THE WAY BACK TO THE ROMAN EMPIRE.

THE TYRANNOSAURUS REX IS THOUGHT TO BE ONE OF THE MOST FEROCIOUS OF ALL DINOSAURS. THIS REPTILE HAD AN OVERALL LENGTH OF ABOUT 50 FEET, AND STOOD ABOUT 18 FEET HIGH.

THE FIRST JOURNEY TO ANOTHER PLANET WAS MADE BY THE AMERICAN CRAFT "MARINER II." IN 1962, IT PASSED WITHIN 22,000 MILES OF VENUS AND REVEALED THE TEMPERATURE ON THE PLANET'S SURFACE TO BE ABOUT 800°F.
